SIMPLE. FLEXIBLE. FOREVER.

 OKLAHOMA CITY COMMUNITY FOUNDATION | JUNE 2007

Honoring a father and a hometown

For Pamela Richmond, receiving the inaugural Sen. Homer Paul Memorial Scholarship for Pauls Valley High School was a true honor.

“When they called my name, I was very happy because I knew I was the first student to receive the scholarship,” she says. “It is such an honor because it is a memorial fund for someone who was related to the founder of Pauls Valley. It’s really amazing.”

An accomplished musician and student leader, Richmond will attend Oklahoma State University in the fall and plans to major in architecture with a minor in music. Her desire after graduation is to return to Pauls Valley, one of the state’s oldest communities, and restore several historic structures before moving on to other projects.

The scholarship fund was established by Sen. Paul’s two sons, Homer Paul Jr. and William Paul. The brothers came to the Oklahoma City Community Foundation in 2006 with the desire to memorialize their father in a community that directly traces its origins to the Paul family.

In the mid-1830s, during a wagon train trip from Mississippi to California, Smith Paul discovered the rich farm land nestled in the Washita River Valley in Indian Territory. In 1857, Paul and his family settled in an area that became known as Smith Paul’s Valley. The community’s name was shortened when Santa Fe Railroad built its depot in 1887.

Born and raised in Pauls Valley, Homer Paul — great grandson of Smith Paul — graduated from the high school in 1924. In 1926, at 21 years of age, he was elected to the Oklahoma House of Representatives where he served three consecutive two-year terms, followed by four successive four-year terms in the Oklahoma State Senate. In all, he served 22 years in the state legislature. In 1945, Sen. Paul was elected president pro tempore of the Senate, the state's third highest office.

When Sen. Paul died in 1949 at the age of 44, he left behind his wife, Helen, and two sons, Homer Jr. and William. Graduates of Pauls Valley High School, the brothers wanted to do something for their alma mater such as an endowed scholarship that would also honor their father. That desire led them to the Oklahoma City Community Foundation.

"As we sought ways to accomplish our goal, we discovered that the community foundation already administered a scholarship program statewide and their endowment fund management record is superb," says William Paul. "Because they had the program in place, we were able to do in days what would have required weeks had we tried to set up our own fund. We were able to build in the criteria we desired, which was important to us."

The Sen. Homer Paul Memorial Scholarship for Pauls Valley High School supports an annual award to a graduating senior who will attend either Oklahoma State University or the University of Oklahoma.

The Oklahoma City Community Foundation administers the state's largest independent scholarship program, awarding more than 500 scholarships a year. We work with donors like the Paul brothers to create endowments that meet their specific needs and ensure that their charitable giving is simple, flexible and forever.

If you are interested in establishing a scholarship endowment or want to learn how you can help your community through charitable giving, contact us at 405/235-5603.

Investing in the Future Through Endowments

The scholarship and award funds listed in this publication are permanent funds, also known as endowments. Endowments are funds that are invested with the intent to provide perpetual support for a charitable purpose such as scholarships and awards. The Oklahoma City Community Foundation Board of Trustees monitors the investment process so that every scholarship endowment receives quality professional investment management.

How Scholarship Endowments are Invested

All scholarship endowments are pooled with other Oklahoma City Community Foundation funds and invested by a team of professional investment managers. Our investment policy calls for a portfolio of stocks and bonds that is highly diversified and of high quality. Capital preservation and growth necessary to protect against inflation are the policy's fundamental objectives. Our Investment Committee monitors the performance of these managers and devotes significant time to consideration of issues of asset allocation and appropriate diversification.

The Investment Committee is comprised of Trustees and investment professionals in the community and is led by Investment Counsel, James K. Hotchkiss of Hotchkiss and Associates of Chicago, Ill. This proven investment strategy has resulted in investment performance that has outperformed the market benchmark indices for the past 10 years compounded. Details of quarterly investment performance results are available at www.occf.org.

How Annual Distributions are Determined

Cash distributions from a scholarship and award endowment are based on a spending rule that calls for distributing 5 percent of the market value of the fund, averaged over the previous eight quarters. Any remaining investment return over the 5 percent is left in the fund to increase the fund value and to protect the future income stream against inflation. Historical trends in the marketplace indicate that 5 percent is an appropriate amount to distribute while still maintaining the purchasing power of the fund. This is based on the assumption that total investment return for a balanced portfolio can reasonably be expected to average at least 8 percent and inflation over time will average 3 percent. A majority of large endowment funds for colleges and foundations use the 5 percent spending rule because the annual distribution from the fund is predictable and is not tied to current income, asset allocation or shifts in market conditions in any one year. This spending policy allows investment managers to focus on achieving the best total return for the portfolio that enhances the fund over time. Cash distributions from endowments are made following the end of the fiscal year and the audit of the Oklahoma City Community Foundation. Scholarship payment plans coordinate with student enrollment schedules.

For more information on the investment and distribution policies of the Oklahoma City Community Foundation, please contact Carla Pickrell at 405/235-5603 or c.pickrell@occf.org.

Scholarship & Award

Endowment Funds

The scholarship and award funds listed in this publication represent the endowments administered by the Oklahoma City Community Foundation as of June 1, 2007. This list does not include the scholarships and awards provided through individual donor advised funds or charitable organization endowment funds. The year listed in parentheses represents the year the fund was established.

Willie Elizabeth Shipley

As a clerk for the Oklahoma State Senate from 1923 until her retirement in 1971, Willie Elizabeth Shipley recorded some of the most colorful political events in the state's history. Throughout her career – which spanned the terms of 15 governors – she recorded the development of a young state.

A native of Mangum, Okla., Miss Shipley graduated from the Oklahoma College for Women, a school she was able to attend thanks to a scholarship from the Daughters of the American Revolution. She always appreciated that the scholarship had provided her an opportunity she wouldn't have realized otherwise and it was a gesture of support she wouldn't forget. Years later in a show of gratitude, Miss Shipley would designate a portion of her estate to the Oklahoma City Community Foundation to create a permanent endowment fund that would provide assistance to what she described as "needy students," those who wanted to go to college but didn't have the financial means.

Since 1981, the Willie Elizabeth Shipley Fund has assisted hundreds of these students in obtaining an education beyond high school. A goal they would not have otherwise realized. And, since 1997, the fund has provided tuition assistance to former foster-care youth through the Oklahoma Youth With Promise Scholarship Program.

"Thank you for this scholarship. I will be able to concentrate more on my studies rather than working all day. With your support I know I'll do great."

Achieving Your Charitable Goals Through Scholarship & Award Endowment Funds

The Oklahoma City Community Foundation administers the state's largest independent scholarship award program. The more than 90 funds in the program have been established by a wide variety of donors, organizations and families. Scholarship and award funds provide an efficient way for donors to help students with educational needs or to recognize achievement. The biggest challenge to donors and sponsoring organizations is the long-term administration of the fund. That is why the Oklahoma City Community Foundation is ideally suited to assist the donors and to continue the process in perpetuity. If you are interested in establishing your own scholarship or award fund please contact us at 405/235-5603, we'll work with you to create a fund that achieves your goals.

How to Establish a Fund

A scholarship or award endowment fund may be established with a minimum amount of $20,000 which can be accumulated over an agreed upon time period. A permanent named scholarship that is administered as part of an existing Oklahoma City Community Foundation scholarship program or another larger program may be established with a minimum amount of $10,000. The funds are invested according to the policy outlined on page 2 and benefit from the accounting, administrative and development services at the Oklahoma City Community Foundation. Funds can be established by contributing a variety of assets including cash, stocks and bonds, real estate, oil and gas interests and royalty interests. In addition, donors can create a scholarship or award endowment through a planned gift such as retirement plan assets, charitable gift annuity or trust or a bequest through a will. Our staff is available to assist donors and their professional advisors on the most effective means of creating an endowment.

The Oklahoma City Community Foundation will work with donors to help them establish appropriate criteria and forms, help promote the scholarships through the Oklahoma County Guidance Counselor Network and the Scholarship Center at www.occf.org and administer a selection process if needed.

Who Should Consider Establishing a Scholarship Endowment?

The Oklahoma City Community Foundation's scholarship program is an ideal choice for:

Donors who wish to establish funds that allow students to choose a college to attend.

Donors who need assistance with the selection and administration process.

Donors who no longer reside in Oklahoma but want to benefit local students.

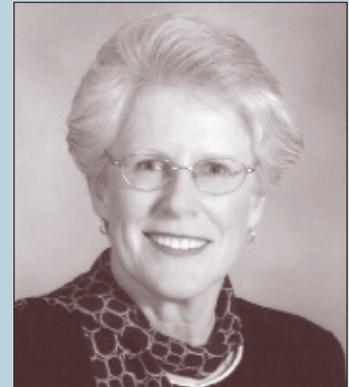

Organizations that want visibility for their scholarship programs.

Scholarship sponsors who want to participate in the selection process but not the other administrative details.

Scholarship funds which would like the benefit of professional investment services and want to develop additional donors.

Donors who wish to establish a fund as a memorial and want visibility for the fund.

Use Your IRA to Create a Scholarship Endowment

A single gift from an IRA can last forever if used to create a scholarship endowment

For more than 30 years, Americans have saved billions of pre-tax dollars in IRAs. Thanks to continued savings and investment returns, an estimated $3.6 trillion is currently invested in traditional or Roth IRAs and the amount continues to grow. In 2006, Congress passed a law that allows persons 70-1/2 years or older to make charitable transfers up to $100,000 per year through December 2007. If married, each spouse can transfer up to $100,000 from his or her IRA. By going directly to a charitable organization such as the Oklahoma City Community Foundation, the money is not included in the IRA owner's income and – most importantly – is not taxed. As a result, the full amount is preserved for charitable purposes. Again, this provision disappears after 2007.

Consult with your professional advisor about making a gift from your IRA to an existing scholarship endowment or creating a fund that will make automatic annual awards to students as designated when you make the gift. For more information, contact us at 405/235-5603.
